NUSA PENIDA is an island located off the southeast coast of Bali, Indonesia. It is part of the Klungkung Regency and is known for its stunning natural beauty, including its rugged coastline, pristine beaches, and dramatic cliffs.

Nusa Penida is a popular destination for tourists who are looking for a quieter and more secluded experience compared to Bali. The island is home to many beautiful attractions, including Kelingking Beach, Angel's Billabong, and Crystal Bay, which are popular spots for swimming, snorkeling, and diving.

The island is also home to a number of Hindu temples, such as Pura Dalem Ped, which is located in the village of Ped and is believed to date back to the 11th century. Nusa Penida is also known for its wildlife, including its bird species, such as the endangered Bali Starling, and its large population of manta rays.

Visitors to Nusa Penida can reach the island by ferry from Sanur or Padangbai in Bali, or from Lombok. Once on the island, visitors can rent a motorbike or hire a driver to explore the island's many natural and cultural attractions. (Destinasi)
